

Anthropology News

Bi-Weekly Newsletter

Undergraduate Studies

Deadlines and Reminders

A message from your advisor

Whether you are beginning or continuing your educational journey with us, I look forward to learning, exploring, and growing together. Let me know if you have any questions or concerns

- In fall 2022, I'll continue virtual advising. Please use the online scheduler to make an appointment. Email me here.

- Visit the Academic Calendar. These calendars contain information regarding registration periods and official academic dates, including the deadlines for adding and dropping classes.

Coming soon

- September 2 – “10th day” add/drop deadline
- Deadline to drop or reduce semester hours and receive a refund if reducing assessment range for ALL students
- Deadline for UG to add a semester course via Student Self-Service

Reach Undergraduate Studies Director, Professor Ripan S. Malhi by email.

Maritza Quiñones, Ph.D. - Academic Advisor

Welcome and welcome back,
Anthropologists!

We are so excited to greet you to Fall 2022 and to cheer you on for the greatness we know you are capable of!

Special shout-out to Anthro-Club for their impressive LAS LIFTOFF '22 presence (see cover image with Anthropology Head, Professor Brenda Farnell)!

These newsletters are to remind and inform on opportunities for learning, career development, fellowships and campus resources!

Enjoy!

In this issue

- Reminders and Deadlines
- Anthropology Meet&Greet
- Anthro Club
- NCSA's SPIN Internship

Fall 2022 Meet & Greet

Meet your advisor, faculty members, TAs, and staff at the Department's Meet and Greet!

Join Anthropology Club

If you are looking for all things anthropology, professional networking, career exploration, and quite a lot of fun, Anthropology Club is the student organization you need to be a part of!

Look out for details about the Club's next meeting on their Instagram page and do not be afraid to reach out via email!

NCSA's SPIN program Internship

“The National Center for Supercomputing Applications (NCSA) has a history of nurturing innovative concepts, and some of the best ideas have come from highly motivated, creative undergraduate students. The Students

The Students Pushing INnovation (SPIN) internship program was launched to provide University of Illinois undergraduates with the opportunity to participate in hands-on research and contribute to interdisciplinary projects covering focused research areas in Culture and Society, Earth and Environment, Bioinformatics and Health Sciences, Material and Manufacturing, Data and Computational Sciences, Physics and Astronomy, and Digital Agriculture. The SPIN program is currently accepting applications for the Academic Year 2022-23 session. Please apply here by September 4, 2022. They will consider applications on a rolling basis, so apply early.

SPIN Academic Year 2022-23 session information:

Work 5 hours a week for 14-16 weeks each semester

The pay rate is $15 per hour

Any UIUC undergraduate student in good academic standing enrolled in at least 12 credit hours per term

No restriction on year of study or major

Students need to be on the UIUC campus to participate in the SPIN program

International students are eligible

Start date: as soon as possible

If you have any questions, please contact Olena Kindratenko by email.

Department of Anthropology

109 Davenport Hall
607 S. Mathews Ave.
Urbana IL, 61801
(map)

Tel: 217-333-3616
Fax: 217-244-3490
Email: anthro@illinois.edu

